COCKTAILS

Adonis was dearer to her than heaven. “Don’t go” Venus begged him. “Don’t go into the woods, stay with me”. Her fear that he’ll be killed by a wild boar while hunting made her powerless. Adonis was too arrogant and believed he was immortal. He went. Cupid sits in the background, weeping in sadness, feeling what was coming. The result was fatal. Venus had pleaded for him to stay but the stubborn Adonis proceeds to meet his fate. She sprinkled nectar on his blood and there sprang up a flower. Only for a moment, before the blossoms opened and the wind blew the petals away.
